A posse immediately surrounded Durando in a bean field but, before they could capture him, he ended his own life by putting a bullet through his brain.

W. C. T. U. STANDS BY WHITE RIBBON

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The W. C. T. U. white ribboners have no intention of changing the color of their badge.

Blue ribbons do not appeal to them. Miss Bertha Bowman, chairman of the national publicity committee of the temperance organization, made that plain today. The program of the W. C. T. U. does not include "blue laws."

"We believe," said Miss Bowman, "that the blue laws ascribed to us were really put out by the liquor interests. This propaganda of the wets was planned to make us seem ridiculous. They went so far as to say we were going to deprive the men of golf games on Sundays, hot dinners—anything that entailed an extra motion on the Lord's Day."

STORMS RAGE IN LAKE DISTRICTS

OH! HENRY!

(By International News Service)

ELKINS, W. Va., Aug. 20.—Here's a new Henry Ford story. It is told by Judge William E. Baker, of Federal District Court, and it is a new one, for it happened when Mr. Ford, H. S. Firestone and Thomas A. Edison were in Elkins the other day on their mountain camping expedition.

Two negroes were playing dice—that is, "shooting craps"—in the street and one had taken about all the money the other had. The winner played slowly and took plenty of time with the dice before he would "roll" them. The loser was impatient.

"Nigger," he said, "Ford them bones."

"What you all mean, Ford them bones?"

"I means shake, rattle and roll, dat's what I means."

Both bones of the leg were fractured just above the ankle.

He was taken to the Glendale sanitarium hospital and the wounds cared for. Dr. Eckles, his physician, says that he will be as well and active as ever when the wounds heal.

Mr. Anderson lives at 614 East California avenue.

CATTLE MEN TO MEET

(By International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 20.—The general mid-year meeting of the American National Livestock Association will be held here Friday and Saturday, August 26 and 27.

Questions of vital interest to the livestock producers throughout the country will be discussed, according to the call for the meeting issued last month from the association's headquarters in Denver.

It is expected that the proposal that Denver subscribe $500,000 to the $50,000,000 pool that will extend credits to livestock raisers will receive attention at the meeting here. Of the $500,000 allotted to Denver banks only $200,000 has thus far been raised.

New York was allotted half of the $50,000,000 fund; Chicago $8,000,000; Kansas City, $1,500,000, Omaha, $750,000, the remainder being raised by subscriptions from various banking institutions and cattle companies throughout the country. A large percentage of the fund has already been subscribed too, it is believed.

Mrs. G. M. Tisdale of 336 West Acacia avenue, was the winner of the first prize of $10 in the educational advertising contest which has been carried on by the Glendale Daily Press and which has just closed. Mrs. Tisdale believes that it pays to read the Glendale Daily Press for more reasons than one. But suppose we let her tell all about it:

"I certainly am agreeably surprised in that I have won first prize in your educational advertising contest. While I strived for this award I did not think for a minute that I would actually get it. I want to say that in many ways I have been benefited by this contest. In addition to winning the prize I have, by following the advertisements, been able to save quite a good deal in picking up bargains along various lines. All of your advertisers that I visited were courteous in the extreme and did eevrything they could to make my visits to their establishments as pleasant as possible. I want to thank you heartily for the check for $10.

The second prize money was awarded to N. H. Hutson, 130 North Orange street; the third prize went to Allen R. Kennedy, 318 North Maryland, while the fourth went to Erven Jensen, 424 Hawthorne street.

ARTIST'S MODEL AT NEALE & GREGG'S IS WINDOW MAGIC

Miss Laurel Bishop, in Bathing Suit, Draws Attention to Fishing Tackle

C. E. Neale of Neale & Gregg's hardware store, reports great public interest in Miss Laurel Bishop, who occupied one of their display windows last night and fished from the trout pool in their woodland camp, extracting therefrom a large fish labelled "Buy your sporting goods from Neale & Gregg."

Miss Bishop, who is a well-known artist's model of Los Angeles, was a very attractive figure in a red bathing suit, red cap, red socks, white slippers and white belt. When asked if she were a mermaid, Mr. Neale said: "No, only a mere maid," which, he declares, is a joke.

Neale & Gregg are offering a fine fishing rod, reel and line to the person who makes the closest guess as to the weight of the young woman. She will be weighed tonight at 7 o'clock on the familiar and reliable scales in front of the store, and the prize will then be awarded. Over 100 guesses were registered Friday during the time she was in the window, from 5 to 7 p. m. From the interest displayed, the ballot box will be stuffed tonight.

NEW ROCK BOTTOM BUTCHER INVESTS HEAVILY HERE

August Ebsen, who for the past eighteen years has lived in Los Angeles, but who for a short time has been in Glendale, held the opening of his meat market in the Rock Bottom store, 133 South Central avenue this morning. He has installed equipment to the value of $6,000, this including an automatic ice machine which makes its own ice and maintains constantly a temperature between 34 and 37 degrees, and is operatetd by electricity, an electric grinder, electric scales, electric register, etc. In this market everything is right up to the minute and the finest of meats will be served to the people of Glendale.

It will be remembered that it was Mr. Ebsen, who, with two associates, opened the elaborate market in the Selig store on Brand. While he is still financially interested in the Selig market, Mr. Ebsen has taken personal charge of the Rock Bottom meat establishment.

Mr. Ebsen has purchased a lot 150 by 182 feet in size at the corner of Glendale and Acacia avenues, upon which he will erect four double bungalows, to cost not less than $7,000 each. These homes will be of an exterior lath and plaster construction. The plans are being drawn by Architect Hasler of Los Angeles, who agrees to have building material on the ground within 15 days.

ENGLAND SERENELY AWAITS IRELAND'S DECISION

De Valera Engaged With His Cabinet and Sinn Fein Leaders Drafting Erin's Reply to Last Peace Words From British Premier—Press Supports George

(By International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The eyes of the British Empire once more were fixed with anxious expectancy on Dublin today. The British premier having said his last word on Irish peace and having summed up the British government's attitude in a "take it or leave it" ultimatum, the decision of permanent peace or of a new war of incalculable atrocity must come from the Dublin capital. There, Eamonn de Valera is engaged in almost continuous conference with his cabinet and Irish party leaders, preparatory to drafting Ireland's final answer to Downing street, which is to be read in Dail Eireann at a public session Tuesday.

Premier is Supported

Premier Lloyd George's announcement in commons yesterday, to the effect that the dominion status is all that England can offer, and all she will ever offer Ireland, has made a profound impression throughout the United Kingdom and all the overshadowing question now is whether Sinn Fein will accept the challenge and risk a new conflict more horrible than any that has gone before, or accept what Britain declares is the maximum it can grant: a self-governing sattus equal to that of Canada and other British dominions.

Press Supports George

Pending Ireland's final answer, all discussion of the Irish problem once more has resolved itself into guesswork and speculation. That part of the press that has been attacking the premier for going as far as he has gone, continued its tirades today, while the more liberal organs praised him.

Northcliffe's Daily Mail, which has been silent all week, with regard to Irish negotiations, said today:

"Ireland as a dominion is the utmost limit."

Other papers expressed similar views with the exception of the Tory Morning Post, which sarcastically predicted that Lord Curzon, Lord Chancellor Birkenhead and Premier Lloyd George would "soon be defending the secession of Southern Ireland."

FORTY BOY SCOUTS READY FOR CAMP IN LYTLE CREEK

Scout Executive Benjamin Robison announces that about 40 boy scouts will leave Monday at 7 a. m., for the camp in Lytle creek canyon. The start will be made from the home of Mr. Robinson, 407 North Louise street, where the boys can leave their blankets and grub any time between now and Monday.

Mr. Robison says that parents and friends of the boys will be welcome visitors at any time at the camp, which will not be far from Glen ranch. He will be especially glad to have them come on Sunday and for those who do not know the way, he gives the following instructions:

"Take the Foothill boulevard to Euclid avenue, Ontario, go north on Euclid about two miles to Base Line boulevard, then go east until a sign is reached which reads: 'Twelve miles to Glen Ranch.' From that point there is no difficulty, as signs indicate the direction. The scouts will be in camp for eight days."

BRAND BOULEVARD PROPERTY BOUGHT AT GOOD PRICE

Two notable sales of North Brand frontage, made within 24 hours, are reported by O. E. Von Oven of the Charles B. Guthrie agency. Frank D. Myers has sold to Henry E. Rommell of the Rommell Construction company (through the cooperation of Mr. Winger of the Glendale Realty company), 50 feet on the northeast corner of Doran and Brand. The Guthrie agency also reports the sale of 100 feet on the southeast corner of Doran and Brand by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goulding to James A. Endicott of the firm of Endicott & Larson. The consideration was not given in either case, but the figures are said to be in keeping with current values on that part of Brand.

Mr. Von Oven says the sickness of the North Brand office manager and the absence of his assoriate, Mr. Guthrie, who is taking an extended vacation trip, has made life one grand rush for him from early morn till dewy eve, because business is decidedly brisk.

BED FOR SOLDIER SICK AT HOSPITAL

The board of directors of the Glendale Research hospital has decided to offer a free bed, board and nursing to any member of the American Legion or his family, in cases where the former service man is unable to pay for such attention. It is further announced that in addition to the free bed, Dr. Edward Swift, and Dr. W. H. Bucher, an ex-captain of the army medical corps, have offered their services gratis to any member of the Legion who may need their services.

COMMERCIAL BODY EXPLAINS POSITION TOWARD DRIVES

Over a heading appearing in our columns on August 17, a misunderstanding seems to have arisen as regards the policy of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce toward local business enterprises.

This heading suggested that the Chamber of Commerce had endorsed a campaign started by a local concern. The Chamber of Commerce is a booster for all Glendale enterprises and, while it will endorse, after investigation of the stability and merits of any organization in Glendale or one contemplating coming here, out of fairness to its membership it could not endorse the activities of any one business, and it has not done so in the past.

160TH REGIMENT IS FIRST COMPLETED IN CALIFORNIA

Capt. Thos. D. Watson of this city, who has been assisting in forming the Pasadena company of the National Guard, recruited 15 men and finished the organization Friday, taking the papers the same day to the organization officer's headquarters.

This completes the organization of the new regiment, the 160th Infantry, the first California regiment organized since the World War.

Hereafter, any new companies formed in this state will go into a new regiment, to be formed of companies outside of Los Angeles.

Capt. Watson states that every National Guard officer is now compelled to go into the Reserve Corps, and if promoted in the National Guard he is also promoted in the Reserve Corps.

The war department plans, after the beginning of 1922, to attach all reserves to the National Guard for training purposes, and the Glendale reservists will therefore go to camp with the National Guard companies having headquarters in this city.

The Pasadena company is starting out under very favorable conditions, Capt. Watson says, for it has been generously backed by that city. It already has $2000 in its treasury, donated by citizens, and an armory building fairly well furnished.

Glendale companies have asked for nothing from the public, but have nevertheless made the best showing of any organization in the state.

Caution and Courtesty Cut Down Accidents

"Caution, courtesy and a cool head are the three major points in the education, of the city motorist and practically all traffic accidents can be traced to lack of one or all of these characteristics in the average driver," says P. W. Battelle, Secretary of the Valley Auto Trades Association.

"Public opinion and past experience has repeatedly emphasized the importance of caution and a cool head, but the average motorist who compiles the most of his mileage within city limits has not received the proper instruction in just common courtesy.

"In his hurry to reach his destination he crowds into the traffic regardless of others, he passes cars when the courteous thing for him to do would be to lose about five seconds, he cuts in close in front of another machine in such a way as to cause the less haste mad driver to apply his brakes to save his fenders, and in more ways than one he acts the proverbial road hog in the most childish manner possible.

If the people who are no doubt repeated offenders in this way would just mull the idea over for five minutes they would agree that there is such a thing as courtesy and that it is being neglected daily. And they might realize that there is common sense, even in haste."

READ ROAD SIGNS IS ADVICE OF AUTO CLUB OFFICIALS

Motorists in this section of the state are endangering the lives of men at work on highway repairs by passing warning signs, according to officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

"Danger—Men at Work" is the sign which is to be found in the future on all highways approaching the point where laborers are busy on highway maintenance.

According to Auto Club officials, this sign will never be placed in position unless it is an actual fact that men are at work and are in danger from careless motorists who fail to heed the fact. The signs will be turned over to the various county offices in the southern part of the state to be used by the road construction engineers wherever men are at work on the roads.

Motorists are asked to remember that men are doing this work for the motorist and therefore every possible aid and consideration should be tendered them.

RECKLESS DRIVING MAKES INSURANCE RATES HIGH

There will never be lower automobile insurance rates for motorists of Southern California in the near future despite recent action taken by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in severing its connections with the National Board of Automobile Underwriters, according to a detailed announcement made yesterday by officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It is up to the public to first reduce the risk induced by reckless driving, careless garage construction and activity of automobile thieves before insurance rates can be lowered in this section, it is pointed out.

Why does not a cautious driver get a lower insurance rate on his car than one who is known by the insurance company to be reckless?

Because the cost both to the insurance company and to the individual solicitor in investigating, except in a general way, the reliability of every automobile driver, who seeks to take out insurance, would bring the overhead expense of the company up to a point which would raise the insurance rates to the same figure at which they were before such an elaborate investigation was attempted.

The action taken by the National Chamber of Commerce, according to eastern dispatches, was taken in an effort to secure a nation-wide inquiry by insurance companies into a man's character before writing his policy, and also because of the disagreement with the grouping of cars according to their mechanical construction.

The Inter-Insurance Exchange of the Automobile Club of Southern California, which is the criterion for cooperative insurance throughout America, characterizes any stand taken for an investigation into an individual's personal habits in regard to his rate of insurance as impractical for the average insurance company at this time because of the enormous expense involved in making personal investigations. Any insurance solicitor, it is pointed out, would make very little money if he had to spend time investigating the personal character of each one of his "prospects."

FORD AGENT SHOWS HOW INTERNAL PARTS WORK

Have you ever seen the inside of a Ford Motor?

Here's your opportunity. The W. D. Dunham Ford Agency of 1250 West Seventh street had their shop cut and assemble a set of parts from their regular stock into a complete transparent chasis. This can be operated by the electric starter and shows the "insides" just the way the different parts work together.

The chasis is proving of considerable interest to Ford owners, prospective owners and motorists in general as it has great educational value, showing as it does exactly the working of all the parts of the motor, starter, generator, timer, carburetor, magneto, clutch, universal joint, differential, etc.

Mr. Dunham also had in mind, when having the chasis made, to show the extreme simplicity of the Ford.

This novel Ford chasis is now on display on the sales floor of this company and all who wish to look it over are cordially invited to do so by Mr. Dunham.

TRICKS EMPLOYED BY WISE DRIVER

Carburetor Adjustment

The operator may effect a considerable saving during hot weather by adjusting the carburetor to feed a leaner mixture than is needed in winter. In addition to saving money, this adjustment actually promotes better operation, as the engine does not need the greater gasoline content in its fuel that colder weather demands. Over-heating is likely to result if the mixture is too rich in summer.

Climbing Hills

The motor car driver should be taught that his vehicle will climb hills with greater speed and less fuel consumption if he uses intermediate gear than if he allows the engine to labor in high until it almost stalls.

Summer Lubrication

Heat thins the body of lubricating oil, and in many cases it is advisable to use a heavier oil in summer than in winter. In cases where trouble with lubrication in hot weather persists, the substitution of a heavier oil may be the solution.

The Radiator

During hot weather the radiator should be filled as full as possible and the overflow pipe must not be allowed to get clogged.

The Fan

The importance of adequate cooling during hot weather makes it important that the fan be kept functioning properly. It should be cleaned and generously greased.

In Kansas and West Virginia, an operator of a motor vehicle may be fourteen years old.

SAN GABRIEL AUTO TRADE TO DINE AT WHITE INN

Big Banquet on August 26 to Draw Leading Men of Valley Trade

Plans are being rapidly completed for the banquet and general meeting of the San Gabriel Valley Automobile Trade association, to be held at the White Inn, Glendale, Friday night, August 26.

Among the several men of prominence who will address the automobile men will be Henry W. Wright, of South Pasadena, now chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county, also speaker of the Assembly at the last session of the state legislature.

To Discuss Legislation

Mr. Wright, who is wellknown throughout the state, will talk on some phases of the recent automobile legislation and a large attendance is expected, to hear about some of the inside facts of the many proposed bills that were placed before the legislative body, some of which, if passed, would have seriously menaced the business of the automobile men and worked a hardship on the motoring public.

Another speaker of prominence will be George Haberfelds, state president of the California Automobile Trade association, who will come directly here from Lake Tahoe, where the state convention has been in session.

State Executive to Speak

Mr. Haberfelde is one of the most widely known men in the automotive industry. His Ford agency in Bakersfield is one of the most up-to-date and attractive in the country.

At the Santa Barbara convention, Mr. Haberfelde was reelected state president for the third consecutive time, and is one of the hardest workers for the "betterment of the trade" idea.

The recent announcement of the affiliation of Glendale with Pasadena, South Pasadena and Alhambra, has created considerable interest in local automobile circles. The joining together of these cities means a greater cooperation and will benefit the motoring public at large by the cooperative efforts of a united organization.

The members of the association now number 76, and motorists are assured of a square deal, fair and reasonable prices, quick and expert service, by trading with those who display the wheel and radiator insignia of the organization.

RELIEF SPARE TIRE IS GOOD HABIT TO FORM

For the man who wants to get the maximum mileage from his tires the habit of using a spare tire to afford regular changes, beginning at the right front and progressing around the car is a valuable one to form. In this way each tire gets a week's rest in four, during which time it should be gone over carefully and have any cuts and abrasions vulcanized.

RADICAL CHANGES IN TIRE MAKING

Since the days of a quarter of a century ago when motoring was in its infancy, the tire industry has passed through many radical changes, each change lessening the cost and increasing the joys of motoring.

Imagine the motorists of today having to change his tires or repair punctures every ninety miles! And yet that is exactly what happened in those pioneer days of the pneumatic tire.

Today it is no uncommon thing for a motor car to run more than 100 times that distance without encountering serious tire difficulty. But these improvements have all taken time—they have required the most expert manufacturing chemists and research engines. Today tire mileage is measured by thousands of miles and months of service.

The modern motor car tire is a marvel compared with the crude affairs of long ago. In size, strength and durability, the modern tire is a mechanical masterpiece, and the service they deliver under all conditions is seemingly an impossibility, when we consider that tires are only rubber and fabric or cord, yet they serve like steel.

AMERICAN LEGION TO HONOR BODY OF WAR HERO

Sergeant Schaeffer's Remains Arrived in Glendale on Friday Afternoon

The remains of Sergeant John A. Schaeffer arrived in Glendale from France Friday afternoon. This boy, who was the son of Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, was born in Glendale in 1895. When quite a young boy his father died, and the widow moved to Los Angeles, where John enlisted soon after the United States entered the war, in company D, 364th infantry. He was in training at Camp Lewis for about two years, and was then sent across, and to the firing line in the Argonne, where he fell after two weeks' service, on September 26, 1918. His brother, Otto F. Schaeffer, resides at 431 Patterson avenue, this city.

Funeral services await the arrival of Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, who is now in the state of Washington and who is expected here the first of the week.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Robert Holland celebrated his eighteenth birthday Thursday, and had just the kind of a day he preferred. He entertained his old friend, George Black, of Pomona, all of his favorite dishes were served for dinner, and the two young men spent the evening at the Orpheum.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally if You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluglishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

MANAGER REEVES STUDIES STREETS

Mayor Robinson, Councilman Davis, Fire Chief Lankford and City Manager Reeves took a little trip over East Glendale yesterday, investigating the proposed street extensions, such as Raleigh, Garfield avenue, Chestnut and Sycamore Canyon boulevard with respect to watermains and fire protection.

There are now nine applications on file with the city clerk for the position of city engineer, three from ex-army officers, two for chief of police, one for comptroller, and one for street superintendent. It is understood that there are other applicants for these positions and also for city attorney, that have not yet filed their papers.

GLENDALE LEGION IN DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion, decided at its regular meeting last night to take the initiative in a drive for members for the American Legion. The legion decided unanimously to wire instructions to Post Commander Emil Kiefer at Yosemite asking that a committee be appointed to put this drive on and carry it through.

Another important piece of business transacted was the joining of the Glendale post with the San Fernando interpost council, the other members of which are San Fernando, Burbank, Lankershim, and Van Nuys.

The post has decided to issue a 4-page magazine or bulletin. Norman Wytock, has been selected as editor. At this meeting it was announced by Dru Nicoles, chairman of the entertainment committee, that the monthly dances of the legion will be resumed in September.

MAPLE AVENUE PROPERTY OPENED

O. E. Von Oven reports that the tract lying between Columbus avenue and Central avenue, through which Maple avenue was recently extended, is now being opened up by the owner, Harvey Porter of Los Angeles. No sooner had it become noised about that it had been surveyed than the whole tract was practically sold out.

Petitions for the improvement of the street have been circulated, to which the required number of signatures of property owners have been secured, and it is expected that the street work will be completed within the next three months.

BUILDING NOTES

S. Berman, who bought J. W. Usilton's home at 102 East Elk avenue, corner of Brand, has had men and teams at work for several weeks, excavating for a business building he expects to erect soon in the rear of the residence. It will face on Brand, about 100 feet south of Elk avenue, and will be numbered about 406 and 408, with 50 feet frontage.

There are three streets in southeast Glendale that have not a house of any kind facing on them—Oxford, Dolores and Carmel. This condition will prevail no longer for Dolores, for N. L. Matson has begun the erection of a five-room residence at 1705 so he can live near the new gas station he is erecting at 1910 South San Fernando road.

ANOTHER AUTO ACCIDENT

At about 9 o'clock this morning, J. A. Doyle of Burbank, a manufacturer, of building material, was struck and seriously injured by an automobile driven by Mrs. Hazel Snyder of Long Beach, the accident taking place on the San Fernando road. Mr. Doyle was picked up and rushed to the hospital, where medical aid was given.

GLENDALE SPORTS RETURN

A party of Glendale sportsmen, which left here Thursday afternoon and which included Eustace Rowley, Hill McGillis, Roy C. Lover and W. M. Crawford, have returned from a trip which took them as far north as Humboldt county, with wonderful tales of their experiences, in the fishing and hunting line.

NEW PAINTS HERE

The chances are that Glendale will soon take on a brighter hue. Cornwell & Kelty have just received a large shipment of Acme paints, and say they will do everything they can to start something along this particular line.

INDUSTRIAL ZONE IS INCREASING IN PLANT UNITS

Twenty-one Investments Add Hundreds of Thousands in Value to Center

Twenty-one investments in industrial operations have been made on the San Fernando road since the district was zoned for a business district by the city a year ago. The total value of built or projected plants in the district represents several hundred thousand dollars. The two largest are the Fred L. Meneley Window Sheet manufactory near Vine avenue in the Grand View district, $50,000, and the Davis-Glendale company's immense greenhouses, built entirely of steel and glass and covering several acres. When completed, this plant will mean an investment of possibly $200,000, including the twenty acres of ground purchased, on which to locate this expanding industry.

At Burbank End

Just beyond the city limits, between Glendale and Burbank, is the nearly completed U. S. Compression Inner Tube company's brick factory, which, while entirely in the country, will be tributary to Glendale, which will house most of its employes, therefore it might well be counted as a Glendale industry.

Other establishments lining this important thoroughfare are the Sawyer Bros. company, feed and fuel warehouse and salesroom; Edwards, Wildey & Dixon lumber yards; Fox-Woodsum lumber yards (formerly Kent Lumber company); Standard Oil company's tract of three acres, with filling station, storage tanks, pump house, garage and other buildings, all representing an investment of more than $25,000.

Other Plants

J. A. Benjamin's dog kennels; Wm. Griffin's big plumbing house and paint store; Harry White's Cletrac agency, with an acre or more of buildings and grounds, another $25,000. The Russell Furniture factory, while not in a new building, is a large, new industry. B. G. Jackson's big garage building at 1600 South San Fernando road, is now being constructed. Then there are many new oil stations, stores and fruit stands among the industries lately established. Many new residences, a score or more, have been built along this busy traffic artery during the past year and a half, also.

The armament industry owes a great debt to the man who began the practice of sending ultimatums.

C. OF C. WILL TRAIN WAR VETERAN IN VOCATION WORK

Sergeant Henry P. Purinton to Become a Pupil of Secretary Rhoades

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce is to have the honor of educating a vocational training soldier of the A. E. F. in the work of a secretary, which is to say, J. M. Rhoades, secretary of the chamber, will teach Sergeant Henry P. Purinton, late of the 318th Engineers Miners and Sappers, injured in the Vosges mountains in the runaway of General Gordon's auto on a mountain slope.

Injured in Accident

Sergeant Purinton, following the accident, spent eleven months in the hospitals in Nance, France, months more under medical survey in the United States. Although big and husky-looking, his spine was injured, resulting in excessive nervousness which is passing away in California.

Sergeant Purinton, who is a Californian, left Oakland with his regiment in May, 1918. The regiment was assigned to the defense sector in the Vosges mountains.

Story of Accident

While they were at work making machine gun implacements, a call came to go to a road where General Gordon's Cadillac was off the road. With block and tackle they put the machine back on the road. Then, with the curtains down, the chauffeur started the car.

"I could see he did not know how to run a car," said Sergeant Purinton, today, "and he got tangled in his gears, so the machine flew down the road at 80 miles an hour, toward a cut-off drop of 300 feet. I kicked through the curtains and stood on the running board, ready to jump. He drove into a big tree and I shot out over a big boulder and brought up against another tree. The engine was driven back under the rear of the machine. After that, I made the rounds of the hospitals in France for eleven months, then landed at Newport News, Va., went to Plattsburg, then to Massachusetts, where the climate was too severe.

Studied at University

"When I came to California I entered the southern branch of the University of California, at Los Angeles, studying foreign commerce. When vacation time came, I heard, through Judge Emery, of the chance to study similar work here with Mr. Rhoades, and I am glad I have been accepted here."

Mr. Purinton lives at 319 Ivy street.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready to use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

THE SILENT VETO

When an English newspaper prints matter which awakens the approval of its readers—or their condemnation—Mr. Englishman takes his pen in hand and indites his personal opinion on the matter.

If an American newspaper expresses views that are approved by its readers, it seldom occurs to them to commit themselves in its support. Should the views of its readers not coincide with those of the editor, the American reader uses the silent veto and stops the "sheet."

The fluctuations of the circulation is the only barometer of the popularity of an American newspaper, and is closely watched for signs of the American mind at work.

The circulation of The Glendale Press is growing steadily. Its readers have not passed the "silent veto," but, like all new ventures, in reflecting the sentiments of a community, it yearns to know if its efforts to reflect the sentiments of the community are always effective.

What do you think, you who have read thus far? Why not write The Press? If you wish to present to the city your personal views on any matter, from the tallest mountain to the deepest mine, or on what lies between them, the columns of The Press are yours.

RUSSIA AND EUROPE

It was Charles Dickens who said he learned his habits of thrift and industry from his father. The elder Dickens was so shiftless and lazy that Charles, when a boy at home, resolved that when he reached manhood he would never follow in his father's footsteps. In this sense, that the father taught the son, George E. Roberts, New York banker now in Russia, sends word back that Russia is the savior of Europe. The idea is unusual, but Mr. Roberts' logic is easy to follow.

Russia today is the great example of what a nation should not be. When, immediately following the war, there was heard in every country in Europe serious talk of the "revolution," the bitter contest between capital and labor and the subsequent overthrow of governments and institutions, Russia was busy in the midst of her appalling experiment. The soviet regime overthrew government and established institutions, capital was destroyed and the communists came into power. Radicals in other countries in whom the flame of revolt burned dangerously looked to Russia for their inspiration. But, to quote Mr. Roberts, "a knowledge of conditions in that devastated country has permeated every corner of the continent and suppressed whatever there was of incipient revolution."

Radicals elsewhere have hesitated to preach a doctrine which would deluge other countries into such a mire as exists in Russia, and sound citizens, looking upon the plight of Russia, have harkened more readily to the call and done their bit to protect their own country from such a chaos and suffering. Russia may be considered the savior of Europe, but she is an unwitting savior and, curiously enough, the salvation has been altogether different from the reformation she had dreamed of through revolution.

A Boston clergyman had two sons, fifteen and six years old, the elder of whom was to be confirmed.

"Yep, I know," he answered.

"What?" she asked, with a glance around the table to call attention to the reply.

The Bride's Bouquet

When you read down the society column and emerge, finally, through the clouds of tulle and white satin and point lace, at the gift of the groom, and the bride's bouquet, isn't there always a delightful little thrill for you in the naming of the bride's flowers?

"She carried white rosebuds and lilies-of-the-valley.

"She carried orchids and orange-blossoms."

Of course she always carries white, that is, if she's married in white, and very often she chooses as part of the bouquet lilies-of-the-valley, probably because there is no other white flower quite so airy and dainty and delicate and "bridey."

Flowers For Personality

Three New York brides this season included them in their bouquets. The first was white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley, the second was gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley, the third was orange-blossoms and lilies-of-the-valley.

It isn't likely that lilies-of-the-valley will ever go out of fashion. Their wee little waxy bells are so altogether adorable tied into bits of white ribbon bows in the shower streamers.

Tiny white rosebuds are fetching for that, too, frequently interspersed with small green sprays of fern; and sweet peas "shower" beautifully.

White lilacs, white pansies and white violets, stock, hyacinths, even calla-lilies and Easter lilies, are among the florist's flowers, great favorites, usually combined with some other white flower for contrast.

Lovely as they all are, some are lovelier for one bride and some for another. Each bride should choose her type and let her flowers bespeak her personality. While a tall queenly girl may carry Easter lilies, for a little witch of a girl to do so would seem almost absurb. Saucy pansy faces—white ones—are for her. A demure maiden may carry white violets or hyacinths; a very tiny bride should never pick out lilacs; they suit a tall slender girl, or at least one of medium height.

The Quaint

Roses and sweet peas, orchids and orange-blossoms are for all. Any of the old-fashioned garden flowers bring out any beauty of quaintness in a girl's appearance. It is a pretty idea to keep such a note of harmony throughout, and allot to the bridesmaids pink and blue armful of snapdragon and larkspur.

At an outdoor wedding, especially, there is something very natural and seemly about choosing the simple blossoms of field or garden for the honors.

At Outdoor Weddings

At such an affair the bride carried just Queen Anne's lace, wonderful with its cobwebby flower medallions, and the bridesmaids followed with their hands full of frilly maidenhair ferns which grow in wooded spaces.

In a spring orchard wedding why not the pure white of pear or cherry blossoms for the bride and the sweet glowing pink of apple-blossoms for her attendants? Fluffy white flowering quince, bridal wreath, dogwood and azalea; fragrant June pinks, white clover, day lilies; fringy asters, cosmos and chrysanthemums—the seasons offer them in succession to the girl who has vision to see them as they may be in her bridal array.

The making up of the bouquet is not wholly the florist's secret—is the assemblage of several smaller bouquets all tied up together. By unwinding certain wires or ribbons, the bride has a full set of miniature bouquets to dispense, and as many as she cares to wrap in tissue-paper.

For the Corsage

The bouquet of the bride who trails to the altar in all the glory of white satin or cloth of silver is not by any means the only sort of briday bou-

Nowadays, many and many a girl, dispensing with fuss, wears a not always with feathers, wears a smart dark suit and a chic hat to be married in. Don't forget that she, too, must have flowers. For her they are in the form of a corsage, and preferably they are not white, and never should be showery.

Violets, orchids and sweet peas are doubtless the most popular. Single purple violets, lavender or rosy-pink sweet peas combined with orchids, violets holding a snowy gardenia, the saffron of Ophelia roses rising from a contrasting circle of violets or sweet peas, are always a delight. Or there's a bunch of glorious purple and blue pansies, a simple soft arrangement of pale pink or yellow primroses, a cluster of appealing little pink sweetheart roses, or one of those utterly enchanting old-fashioned nosegays rimmed with lace paper and centered with a rose.

COMMENT BY OTHERS

BEGINNING OF NEW ERA

"The summoning of a disarmament conference at Washington marks the beginning of a new era in the conduct of international affairs. Diplomacy has become a business. This does not imply that all the old weapons of the diplomat are to be discarded as useless. The suave manner, the courteous address, the sympathy that is born of culture and the tact that is the lubricant of human relations, will still be valuable assets to the stock-in-trade of the international negotiators. The human factor in diplomacy does not disappear just because the rules of the game are altered. Yet the baser elements of the art which flourished in the courts of Europe for centuries will gradually fall into abeyance. The day has passed when the embassies of the world's great capitals were the centers of international intrigue, with each ambassador moving as warily as a chess champion, intent only on the winning of the game."—Montreal Daily Star.

A CYNICAL TENDENCY

"There is a tendency to be a bit cynical as to the sincerity of the three great naval powers, British, American and Japanese, concerning their desire to limit armaments. This tendency has even cropped out in the house of commons. As far as the American people are disturbed by such a view, there should be an effective resistant in a genuine wish not to be discouraged either by the attitude of Great Britain or of Japan. We like to think that upon this momentous subject the flies shall not come between us and the sun's light. We are approaching an ideal, an old ideal, for all great ideals are as old as the desire to bring welfare to mankind. But the simple fact that nations have laid down plans for naval expansion, whether of four ships or six ships of the first line, should not deter us from trying to visualize certain limits to armament."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

HELP YOURSELF

By Edwin J. Perrin

"Help Yourself" is now the slogan
Which we hear where'er we go;
Pick out what you want and take it,
Everybody tells you so.

Thus, we enter any grocer's;
Groc-et-er-i-a 'tis now;
Peek around in every corner,
Taking needless things, I vow.

Next, we stroll within a cafe;
Now it's caf-et-er-i-a;
Pile our tray with dishes sickly,
Called by some, mys-ter-i-a.

Now we go into the car shop,
Where they used to fix your buss;
Now they loan you tools and space,
While they listen to you cuss.

Do you ever stop and wonder
To what limit this will go?
If not, then just read down under,
And I'm sure your face will glow.

Will all maidens, young and pretty,
When asked for a kiss, reply:
"Help yourself—take all you want, do—"
"Kiss-et-er-i-a!" you'll cry.

There is one place that I'm sure of,
Which will never change that way;
It is called the undertaker—
Help yourself? You can't, I say.

Americanism, boiled down, consists in doing your darndest and giving the other fellow a fair chance.

I STILL LOVE MY HUSBAND BECAUSE—

He always notices when I'm not feeling well and "fusses" over me so nicely.

He doesn't forget those little anniversaries dear to the heart of a woman, but gives me flowers on our wedding day and on the day we first met.

He doesn't imagine that the four walls of my home are enough now we're married, but takes me for little jaunts when he can.

He has never said or shown by word or look that he's sorry he married me.

He looks on me as a companion as well as a wife, and always discusses his business matters, his hopes and his aims with me.

He hasn't stopped being a lover just because he's a husband.

He takes care of me so well that I know he will never fail me, ever.

It is cheaper to travel by rail unless you are going on a long trip. In that case, it might be well to buy a car.

---

The devotee of bootleg hootch doesn't always experience that awful feeling next morning. He doesn't always last until next mrnoing.

---

The funny part of it, is that the victorious peoples will still be paying taxes for armament long after vanquished Germany has finished paying the indemnity.

Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross is planning an intensive campaign for used clothes for shipment to needy persons in Central and Eastern Europe. This phase of the foreign production program is being conducted in cooperation with the American Friends Service Committee.

Nation-wide appeal for contributions of used clothing is being made through The Saturday Evening Post, The Ladies Home Journal, and the Country Gentleman, in which prospective donors are instructed to get in touch with the nearest Red Cross representative or Chapter.

The call is for all kinds of warm and serviceable clothing in good condition, or for materials out of which to make garments. The local Chapter will receive contributions during August, and every interested citizen in Glendale is urged to remember that some garment he can do without may be just THE garment that will save the life of some suffering child. Garments for all ages are badly needed. They should be clean and in good repair.

Distribution is made in Czecho-Slovakia, Austria, Hungary, Poland, the Balkan and Baltic States, by the American Red Cross, through its Child Welfare Units, and other distribution machinery, and in Poland, Austria, Germany and Russia, by the American Friends Service Committee. Working in close cooperation in the countries in which both organizations are active, their representatives are careful to avoid duplication of effort.

Clothing may be left at the fire stations on East Broadway and Los Feliz road, and also at 347 North Brand Boulevard.

MRS. H. E. BARTLETT,
Chairman.

An evening of unusually fine music will occupy the service at the First Methodist Church next Sunday evening. The Methodist Men's Chorus will have charge of the program. They will be assisted by Miss Isgrig, the director of the music.

This is the first of a series of musical evenings. Next Sunday evening, the Women's Chorus will furnish the program. Some especially fine music has been arranged which, coupled with the excellent talent at hand, makes a combination that is hard to beat.

The program for Sunday, August 21, follows:

Men's Chorus—"Now the Day is Over" ..... Barnby
Cornet Solo ..... Selected
Dr. P. O. Lucas
Solo and Chorus—"I Will Walk With the King" ..... Ackley
Men's Chorus—"The Lost Chord" ..... Sullivan
Solo—"Behold the Man" ..... Piccolomini
J. B. Clarke
Quartet—"Clinging to Thee" ..... Abt
(Soprano Obligato, Miss Isgrig)
Solo—"One Sweetly Solemn Thought" ..... Ambrose
Arthur Haines
Men's Chorus—"Evening Song" ..... Parks

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

The Men's Bible Class will meet as usual on Sunday morning at 9:30 in the City Hall. A real treat is in store for the men who are fortunate enough to be present on Sunday morning, for Rev. George B. McCune, of Korea, will speak. Rev. McCune is a brother-in-law of Dr. McAfee, of the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, and has been in Korea for twenty years, passing through many thrilling experiences. Rev. McCune has a most wonderful and interesting story to tell and every man in Glendale should hear him. Remember the time—9:30 Sunday, and the place—the City Hall.

CARNATION REBEKAH LODGE

Meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 8 p. m, at 111-A East Broadway. Visiting Rebekahs most welcome.

FISHERS RETURNING TO THIS CITY FROM ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fisher who had been familiar figures in the theatrical world in this country for forty years, and residents of Glendale for eight years or more, are returning to this city from England.

They sailed for the "tight little island" last April, declaring they were going home to end their days with their relatives in scenes familiar to their childhood. Friends here secretly shook their heads and predicted they would come back, and their predictions have been realized.

After a wonderful summer with old friends and kinfolk, they began to be homesick for the United States and especially for Glendale, thinking regretfully of the pretty home at the junction of Colorado and Columbus which they sold. The next news to reach here was that they would sail August 27, and that their daughter, Miss Katherine Fisher would take an earlier boat that she might be their advance agent in securing a home for them. She is to land in New York today and will come immediately to Glendale where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Neill on West Lomita, who, like the Fishers, belong to the old-time theatrical fraternity of which Mr. Crane of Robson-Crane fame is now the dean. The Neill home is the rallying social center for the bright stars on the stage of the past, many of whom are now in California and working in the motion picture studios.

THE CHIROTHESIAN

Who is it lays you on your face
And with the greatest ease and grace
Just "brings" your backbone into place?
The Chirothesian.

Who makes you well when you are ill
So you can go where e'er you will,
And doesn't even give a pill?
The Chirothesian.

Who gives the T. B.'s hope and cheer,
Who drives away their every fear,
And past the shoals their frail barques steer?
The Chirothesian.

Who works the miracles today,
Who helps men throw their canes away,
Oh, who is it that's come to stay?
The Chirothesian.

Oh, who inspires with faith and hope,
For all within kind Nature's scope,
And doesn't shoot you full of dope?
The Chirothesian.

Who into Heaven will be let,
And who will be St. Peter's pet
For honest work done here? You bet

This service will enable Martha Malicia to give competent advice on fashions to any one who cares to consult her, and she will welcome inquiries from residents of Glendale.

GRACE DARMOND AT GLENDALE THEATRE

"The Beautiful Gambler," Peter B. Kyne's sensational drama of the old west is the principal attraction at the Glendale Theatre tonight. Grace Darmond, the blonde beauty of the screen, heading an especially selected cast. The story was filmed at Universal City under the direction of William Worthington and is one of the most powerful naratives ever told on the silver sheet.

A beautiful girl's battle to save her father from the mania of gambling and the thrilling situation which compels her to auction herself off to the highest bidder, are dramatic highlights which help carry the story to a climax as unexpected as it is forceful.

By her interpretation of the stellar role Miss Darmond adds another screen success to her list of dramatic achiemenets and entrenches herself even more firmly in the favor of the screen followers. According to Peter B. Kyne, who was a visitor at the studio while the filming of the story was in progress, Miss Darmond is his idea of Molly Hanlon, the heroine of the story as he visualized her when he created the character.

Dear Tommy: I saw Wilbur Wright's aeroplane in Paris, so I built one when we got home. Jim and I got it on top of the garage, and I started on a trial trip. My great discovery of compressing gas into a hollow frame is all right, only the bamboo sticks leaked. So I didn't stay up very long. But I would have made a splendid landing if papa and the minister had kept out of the way. Now papa won't let me build any more air ships. Yours, etc.,

WILLIE.
